

Progress Tracking

Projects do not always go as planned; this tells the reality story of our industry. Therefore impacting circumstances to project objectives needs to be communicated to keep the Client's risk profile on check.

Scope Change can be inevitable, granted either as an addition or omission, they are necessary to balance functional requirement with cost/time/quality objectives. Surviving and adapting to changing demands is therefore a given, when the need arises, the ability to implement a change can be an asset, if valued for its true potential and worth.

- Staying on track:- We advice on where to focus your efforts and how to get back on track, fast.
- Performance incentives:- We design metrics that shows what input produces the optimum results and where there is room for improvement.
- Demonstrating activities and service levels: - We provide information that shows where progress criteria are being met and what mandatory activities are required to maintain immediate and short-term resources usage.
- Doing more with less:- We can help you find evidence-based information to keep your stakeholders viewing your day-to-day reality.